January 2018

Club Meetings are held at Holroyd Community Centre, Miller St., Merrylands. The parking entrance is in Newman Street. Meetings are held from 8 pm on the second Friday of each month unless otherwise stated.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

I would like to congratulate James and Cheryl Morrow, very proud grandparents celebrating the birth of granddaughter Adelaide Rose Crisp. Daughter to Lauren Morrow and Blake Crisp. Some more good news, Des Fitzgerald is pain free for the moment, after being in terrible pain for a very long time.

Well summer has hit with a vengeance. Penrith on 7th January 2018 was officially the hottest place on the planet according to the weather Bureau. 47.3 degrees Celsius. The hottest day in Sydney for over 70 years. Please stay out of the heat on such extreme days and stay hydrated by drinking lots of fluids, and no this does not mean drinking lots of alcohol. I hope all members had a great Christmas and enjoyed the New Year celebrations and the holidays. Our first event for the year is the Twilight BBQ on Saturday 20th January meeting at Deepwater Park off Henry Lawson drive from 3pm. I hope to see as many members as possible attend. This is closely followed by our run to Australiana Village at Wilberforce to celebrate Australia Day, 26th January. I am sure the Northern A's will also have some great runs organised for members during 2018, and would like to see as many members attend as many run's as possible. Tom Virgona is looking for assistance for the Wednesday Wanderers runs, so please contact Tom if you have an idea for a run.

A reminder for those members who may have not renewed their membership please do so as soon as possible, as you are now UNFINANCIAL. If you are unsure if you have paid or not, please check with our Treasurer Charlie Sharpe who will be happy to assist you. Another reminder to those members travelling to Murray Bridge in SA for the National Meet to book their accommodation and send in their entry ASAP. Regards Robert Brown

Happy Birthday to our Model A Fords - 2nd December 1927

Henry Ford's Model T revolutionized transportation in America by making the automobile accessible to nearly all, creating a need for a product that hadn't previously existed. For nearly two decades, the Model T met the motoring needs of the American public, but by the middle of the 1920s automobiles from competing brands offered more style, better performance and improved amenities. Henry Ford's response came in a secretive telegram to dealers on May 26, 1927, advising that Ford was "starting early production entirely new Ford car... superior design and performance to any now in low price light car field."

And with that cryptic announcement, Henry Ford halted production of the Model T and began retooling his factories to produce an all-new automobile, designed to effectively compete against all others in the segment. A similar announcement was given to Ford dealers for posting in local newspapers, but the verbose manifesto did little more than praise the Model T and tease the public that the new and yet-to-be-named Ford would surpass the Model T in every way. The statement's closing paragraph read, "At present I can only say this about the new model – it has speed, style, flexibility and control in traffic. There is nothing quite like it in quality and price. The new car will cost more to manufacture, but it will be more economical to operate."

As spring progressed to summer, and summer progressed to fall, rumours about the miraculous new Ford ran rampant. A period cartoon showed "Henry's new model," bedecked with ornamentation and jewels fit for a king, labelled with a price tag of $500. Early spy photographers scrambled to get pictures of the car, but only the Automotive Daily News and the Brighton Argus succeeded, as Ford was particularly careful to limit testing on public roads. Despite its care, engine and chassis engineer Lawrence Sheldrick was nearly mobbed by curious onlookers during a 300-mile trip from Detroit to Claire, Michigan, and Henry and Edsel Ford were caught red-handed behind the wheel of a prototype by three curious Chicago Ford dealers who'd travelled to Detroit to catch a glimpse of the mysterious new Ford.

In late November came the announcement that Americans had been waiting for: on December 2, 1927, the still-unnamed Ford automobile would be shown to the public, at locations revealed to each and every Ford dealer. Pricing was announced on December 1, the eve of the showing, and to the delight of potential buyers, the new Model A would be priced comparably to the Model T. On the day of the car's reveal, Ford News claimed that 10,534,992 people came to see the Model A, a number that represented 10 percent of the U.S. population at the time.

The Model A offered buyers elegant styling (described as a "downsized Lincoln" by some), four-wheel brakes, improved fuel economy, a laminated safety glass windshield, hydraulic shock absorbers, and a 200.5-cu.in. four-cylinder engine rated at 40 horsepower, enough to deliver a top speed of 65 MPH. Seven body types were offered at launch, including Sport Coupe, Coupe, Roadster, Phaeton, Tudor sedan, Fordor sedan, and truck, and buyers could choose from four colours (Niagara Blue, Arabian Sand, Dawn Gray and Gun Metal Blue). Deposits from eager customers poured in, and in the first two weeks the automaker had reportedly accumulated 400,000 sales orders from dealers (adding to the thousands of orders that had been placed prior to the car's reveal). Though the Model A would only be produced from 1927 through early 1932, Ford sold over 4.3 million examples, and the car would help Ford transition from pioneer to modern automaker. The Model A would also go on to inspire generations of collectors, hot rodders and shade tree mechanics, helping to popularize the hobby that we've all come to know and love.

A little ray of sunshine has come in to the world, in the shape of a girl.

Members Jim & Cheryl Morrow are now grandparents. Their daughter Lauren Morrow and partner Blake Crisp proudly announce the birth of Adelaide Rose Crisp on 7th December, 2017.

Congratulations to everyone.

- Des Fitzgerald reports that he is feeling the best he has in the past 18 months, and is looking forward to 2018
- We wish Phil Dalton a quick painless recovery from his recent hip replacement. I guess brought on by constant gear changing from driving trucks all his life.
- Our club membership is growing. So welcome aboard to our new members, we look forward to seeing you all on our up coming runs.
